New York Stock Market

last few days having proved more or less abortive, traders to-day changed their tactics and bought moderately with a resultant hardening of prices. The improvement was mone too pronounced, and was confined to a few of the leaders, and a number of issues in the special group. There was some degree of pressure on United States steel throughout the day and the selling of that stock was accompanied by the now familiar rumors of adverse trade conditions.

If anything, the day's news was unfavorable rather than otherwise. Two of the minor lines controlled by the New York Central road, the Rutlard and the Lake Eric, and Western roads again passed the dividends on the preferred shares, in keeping with their records for the last year or two, and the Pennsylvania company, an important part of the Pennsylvania system, cut its annual dividend from 8 to 7 per cent. In the case of the Vanderbill ines, it was officially stated that the physical condition of the properties, together with their poor eagnings, did not warrant a resumption of dividend payments at this time. Lehigh valley was the strongest of the railroad issues, but the movement in general was of little significance, and enlisted practically no outside interest or support. The day's business was unitsually smail, and in the late trading the market relapsed into extreme duffices. The feature of the bond market was the increased demand at better prices for the general 4 per cent, bonds of the Atchison and Northern Pacific roads. The balance of the bond market was steady, on a noderate volume of operations.
